Concept

We begin with an initial chat to guide you through the process of designing a product that compliments your brand.

With our extensive experience in bespoke manufacturing and retailing you can rest assured that your product will be both beautifully fragrant and visually stunning.

Before our meeting, it is helpful to give us some information about your brand and values so we can prepare some unique concept ideas for you.

Design

Once we have discussed your concept we can begin the design process taking you through key questions to help you decide on the type of wax, fragrance choice, style of container and packaging design.

We work with you to create your own unique fragrance, a match to a fragrance you already love or you can pick from our many fantastic in-house scents. We work closely with UK and American fragrance houses to help you find the perfect scent.

Development

We will keep you updated at every stage of the journey. During development we will provide you with samples in the form of wax melts to allow you to refine your product until you are completely satisfied. Once you have settled on the fragrance strength you will receive a full prototype in packaging to sign off on.

We also carry out our own in house testing and quality checks to ensure each candle meets European and British safety standards, burns well and creates a beautiful aroma.

Production

With our state of the art pouring system we have the capacity to handle large orders as well as producing hand poured candles making us a great choice for businesses large and small.

The average lead time is 2-3 weeks from the point of all raw ingredients being in place, we will keep you updated on progress throughout the manufacturing process.

Considerations

Before you meet with us to discuss your design it is useful to consider some of the key design questions.

- Choice of Wax
- Type of Fragrance
- Type of Container
- Packaging Design

Wax Choice

If you want to create a candle or wax melt we offer three choices of wax. Once you have selected your wax we will trial different wicks in your product to ensure your candle has an optimum burn time and meets safety standards. Our waxes include:

Mineral Wax

Our mineral wax is made from paraffin, a man-made wax. When lit it has a strong scent throw meaning your chosen fragrance will fill the room.

Natural Wax

Our natural wax is made of soy, a slow burning wax. It is vegan friendly and often considered more environmentally friendly than paraffin wax.

Blended Wax

Our own blend of soy and paraffin combines the slow burn of soy wax with the strong scent throw of paraffin wax.

Fragrance Options

It is great to come with ideas on how you want your candle to smell we also need to know the type of fragrance you want to use in you candle. We offer three types of fragrances:

Essential Oils

A popular choice amongst customers wishing to create all natural products, but they tend to be a more expensive choice.

Fragrance Oils

Our synthetic fragrances offer our widest range of fragrance choices.

Natural Oils

Derived from essential oils, these oils offer far more scent choice than essential oils and tend to be cheaper.

Container Options

We carry a selection of quality, heat-safe tin and glass containers in a range of sizes. You can also provide your own container which we will test to ensure it meets safety standards or we can source something specific for you. Our in house containers include:

Glass Containers

Our glass containers are our most popular choice they can be produced in any colour and branded by printing directly on to the glass or using an adhesive label. Our sizes include:

9 c l      27 c l      30 c l

750 g

Tin Containers

Our tin containers come in gold, silver and rose gold. They can be branded with adhesive labels. Tin is more heat conductive creating an even melt pool. In line with safety guides sizes are limited.

10 c l      25 c l

Packaging

There are a wide variety of packaging materials to choose from. During our meeting we can talk you through your options.

We can provide you with an in house graphic design service that will make your product stand out. You can also provide your own art work, we are able to recommend a number of companies providing a comprehensive graphic design services.

Pricing

We require a small deposit to cover the cost of product development this is fully redeemable upon committing to your product.

It is difficult to give you an exact price at the early concept stage. However, once you have chosen your wax, we can give you a figure based on a 30cl candle with 7% fragrance strength in a clear glass container. This figure may change depending on your requirements.

We will be able to give you a full and comprehensive price once you have decided on your product.
